Roman Foeckl

CEO and Founder

Roman is the Founder and CEO of CoSoSys.

Before founding the company in 2004, Roman worked for Goldman Sachs in Frankfurt, Germany and Paris, France.

He studied business in Wiesbaden, Germany.

After the acquisition of CoSoSys by Astaro and the subsequent acquisition of Astaro through Sophos, Roman together with Michael Bauner took the company private again in a Management Buyout (July 2011), with the goal to build CoSoSys and its Endpoint Protector product family in the leading content aware Data Loss Prevention (DLP) offering on the market.

Roman's vision is to offer an easy to use and implement Data Loss Prevention Solution that covers all popular platforms, from macOS to Windows and Linux, so large and small businesses can protect their data against accidental loss or intentional data theft.
